MATHEMATICS APPLIED (MAP)

MAP 2302 Differential Equations (3 Credits)
Methods of solving first-order ordinary differential equations, theory of linear ordinary differential equations, solutions of linear ordinary differential equations with constant coefficients, the Laplace transform and its application to solving linear ordinary differential equations, series solutions, and selected applications.